The 9th International Conference on Data Envelopment Analysis (DEA 2010) is intended to bring together researchers and practitioners dealing with the development of DEA methodology and its hybrids and applications of DEA to performance management and measurement in both public and private sectors.

Theoretical and empirical papers on DEA, efficiency and productivity, or related fields are invited. There will also be

- A journal editors session especially valuable for PhDs and early career researchers,
- A discussion panel on real life uses of DEA.

Publications:

Special issue of Journal of Data Envelopment Analysis (JDEA).
JDEA is the official journal of the International Data Envelopment Analysis Society.

Thessaloniki is Greece's second major economic, industrial, commercial and political centre, and a major transportation hub for the rest of south-eastern Europe. Thessaloniki is home to numerous notable monuments, including the Paleo-christian and Byzantine monuments of Thessalonika, a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
